

Year 4 Summer

Me, Myself & I

Writing:

A tale of two halves this term. We'll begin by exploring tradition tales such as Little Red Riding Hood. Retelling the story and showing off our dialogue and description skills.

After half term, we'll be delving straight into the book 'Oliver!' putting our reporting skills to the test in a newspaper. But can you guess who picked the pocket?

Reading:

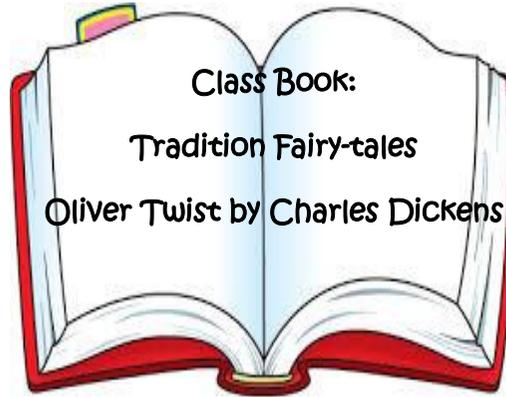

Inference: working out characters' feelings, thoughts and motives based on their actions.

Increasing our familiarity with a wide range of books, including fairy stories, myths and legends.

Class Book:

Tradition Fairy-tales

Oliver Twist by Charles Dickens

Science:

It's mostly about us this term!

We will be exploring our digestive systems with a very hands on (stomach churning!) experiment. Not forgetting the functions of our teeth too!

To compare, we'll research how our digestive system is different to that of animals. As well as understanding food chains.

S&L:

Retelling fairy-tales and our own stories orally.

Music:

We'll be taking inspiration from the soundtrack of 'Oliver!'

History & Geography:

What better way to look at Me, Myself & I than to explore our local area and school?

A local study through time will help us understand how things have changed for Ne Earswick over the last 100 years.

Enrichment:

We'll begin the term with a closer look at 'Being British' and who we are as individuals.

We'll also delve into respect and tolerance: It's good to be different!

PE:

Summer is here and hopefully frequent outdoor PE too!

The perfect opportunity to develop and play a range of competitive games.

Computing:

Digital Citizenship: Do we keep ourselves safe online?

Word processing skills.

French:

All about moi!

We will be revising how to describe ourselves.

Art and Design & Technology:

How did children 100 years ago pass their time?

Could Victorian children be creative at school?

We'll be creating our very own thaumatropes: a Victorian illusion toy.
